

This Week at

Volume 5, Issue 46

Friday, December 14, 2018

More December News at

- Christmas and holiday times are times of enjoying family and friends. Folks from our Sussex group home (r) are enjoying friends from the community, and our folks from the Fredon group home (l) enjoyed a holiday party at the Dawn Center event in Randolph. Dawn staff in photo, Maria and Brenda, are both former SCARC staff working on the outside for the best of SCARC individuals.

- Sean and Judy from SCARC's Harvest Home Foods program in Hampton sort food for holiday food distribution to needy families during the holiday times. SCARC operates two food pantries, one in Hampton and one in Hamburg. The HHF programs support over 500 families per month with food boxes and bags to supplement each family's nutritional needs. A total of 41 individuals participate in our Harvest Home Foods programs.

- Nurse Nancy Dawson (r) and Faye make Christmas cookies for the seasonal sale. Cooking in our Sparta Center kitchen has become a weekly tradition in our Sparta Center and Senior program. SCARC's Sparta Center currently serves 21 adults who require some nursing supports during the day. The program provides 6 hours each day of personalized supports that foster a meaningful day program routine. There are open positions in the center, so if anyone is interested in this quality program, please contact Janis Woersching, COO, at jwoersching@scarc.org.

- Lisa from our Senior program sells Christmas decorations at the SCARC office during our day program holiday sale this past week. All of SCARC's six day program participants prepared holiday items and food for our annual administration building sale.

