

This Week at ASCARC

Volume 7, Issue 22

Friday, July 31, 2020

More End of July News at ASCARC

- Half of the Summer is over and the pandemic is still with us. We are making due with creative activities and fun times. Here are some of the enjoyable occasions we are having.

- Our residents at our Hampton group home are enjoying planting their favorite plants on a warm summer day. And, as you can see, the guys took a break to take a hike through Stokes State Forest to enjoy the out of doors and the cool of the day.

- They guys from our Branchville group home are celebrating Christmas in July at our Branchville group home while watching the movie, Holiday Inn.

- Lizzie from Stillwater has been studying anatomy and body skeletons during her studies at home with staff Laura. Then she has drawn her external and internal body organs and parts to illustrate her learning skills. Great job Lizzie! Good studying!

- Victor at our Warbasse group home also enjoys planting and collecting plants to decorate his bedroom. He is proud of how his room is decorated and kept well appointed. Summer is a time for planting.

- Richard at our Hillside group home plays Wi with staff while keeping busy with games.

- As we celebrate 4th of July, the ladies from our Vernon group home gathered to make this display on their window at the home (right). Staff told the Ladies that fireworks came about in 600-900 AD in China. Legend has it that Chinese alchemist mixed potassium nitrate, sulfur and Charcoal, poured into hollowed-out bamboo sticks forming the first fireworks.

- Sarah (left) rides at the Equine Tranquility Wellness Center in Green Township during our 2020 Summer Experience program for teens.

