

This Week at ASCARC

Volume 8, Issue 38

Friday, November 5, 2021

First Week in November News at ASCARC

- Halloween was so enormous at SCARC this past weekend. The weather was quite cooperative for trick or treaters. Everyone enjoys dressing up in their favorite costumes.

- Maryellen, Catherine, and Cindy from our Val Court group home were very creative in their flower arrangements which they created during their day habilitation horticulture activity this week. Creating flower designs is everyone's favorite activity. Flowers bring joy to our lives both at SCARC and everywhere!

• Tree removal is sometimes necessary at our group home properties as this photo of our Newton group home demonstrates. We have a number of trees in danger of falling onto the homes which need to come down. Several SCARC homes will be having such property care performed. Our contractor, Midhurst Tree Care of Hampton, is taking very good care to properly do the job. Thank you all!

- Our work crew at Thorlabs in Newton are back to work on site, and are eagerly assembling the famous Thorlabs snack boxes for customers to receive with their orders from the Thorlabs company. Thorlabs has expanded their presence in the Town of Newton, and SCARC workers have been hired to work on location. Our crew of 6 workers have returned to work after a long COVID break in production. Congratulations to all SCARC workers!
- The SCARC Foundation reminds us that Subaru of Newton has again selected the SCARC Foundation as one of the recipients of funds from its 2021 Share the Love Event to be held November 18 through January 3. When you buy a used or new care from Subaru, you support SCARC Family of Services. Also, look out for our Annual Appeal letter coming your way, so you can contribute to our end of the year opportunity to donate to the SCARC Foundation. Thank you all