Early December News at ASCARC

- The residents of our Sussex group home are proud of their Christmas tree which they decorated so beautifully. Nina, Susan, Jerry, and Sean worked hard to make their annual tree very attractive in their home.

- The Vernon group home had some wild visitors on their back patio recently with 2 wild pigs making the attempt to look for a free meal (right). This is a first and quite the entertainment for our ladies in the home. Holiday pigs anyone!

- The guys from our Newton group home enjoyed the annual German Christmas Market over the weekend at the Sussex County Fairgrounds. Full of holiday spirit, the German Market moved from their former location at the Boardwalk in Sparta to the Fairgrounds a couple of years ago. Thousands of attendees had a great time in the traditional German atmosphere. SCARC is a recipient of Market proceeds.

- Joyce from our Stillwater group home is ready for the holidays with her holiday decorations. We hope all of our group home residents will enjoy their holiday times together, and for the Spirit of holiday celebrations!

- Students of the Sussex County Community College LACE (Learning At College Experience) program enjoyed their holiday party held recently at the Stillwater Community Center in Swartzwood. The LACE program is coordinated by Patti Nugent, former special education teacher at Kittatinny Regional High School, is a current board member of SCARC, Inc. Forty eight (48) adult students were enrolled in the Fall semester, and registration will occur soon for the Spring semester. For more information, contact Patti at 973-222-6792.

- Lizzy from our Stillwater group home enjoys cooking and food preparation. She is shown preparing healthy butternut squash parmesan sauce with Jenny Torino, SCARC's nutritionist during our zoom Day Hab Goes Digital program. Looks yummy!
