

This Week at ASCARC

Volume 9, Issue 18

Friday, June 10, 2022

More June News at ASCARC

- Members of our Eickmann Center participated in a virtual tour of the Frelinghuysen Arboretum in Morristown with Ann from Haggerty Education Center and her team. We were able to see all of the beautiful flowers coming into bloom. Afterwards we planted flowers for the participants to put in their homes or gardens.

• Many of our residents enjoy cooking and helping to prepare meals for the rest of the home residents. Butch (right) from our Newton group home is helping make lasagna for dinner for other dinner guests. Although many other residents help in cooking, Butch is very interested in cooking and helping.

- Our Harvest Home Foods program participants from our Hamburg location made a trip to the Orange County NY Arboretum in Montgomery NY for a day out of the program. They were able to observe the various trees, plants, and art work. Staff Radica, Steve, and Sara joined several individuals to enjoy the Arboretum and the beautiful weather.

- Our friends at Ronetco Shop Rite have donated Shop Rite plastic bags to our Harvest Home Foods to use in distributing foods to needy families from our Hampton and Hamburg locations. Don from our Hampton location shows some of the thousands of bags we have been given. Although the Plastic Bag Ban Law took effect for grocery and other stores back in May, food pantries can use the bags through November of this year. We are grateful to Ronetco Shop Rite for their generosity to SCARC's Harvest Home Food pantries.

- As we have said in the past, birthday's in our group homes are very popular events. This week the Sussex group home celebrated Sean's birthday with cake and party. Happy Birthday Sean! Sean works for Shop Rite in Franklin as well as at the Sussex Rural Electric Company.